Greetings from ELUNA 2013

Athens, Georgia
April 30 - May 3
We are delighted to host the 2013 ELUNA Conference here in Athens, Georgia, and we hope you will enjoy your stay in our bustling southern college town. If you have not been to the south before, you will notice that despite the sprawling metropolitan influence of Atlanta, old regional customs continue to permeate the landscape. Look for boiled peanuts and GRITS (Girls Raised in the South), listen for "y'alls" and "fixin'-to's," wait your turn at four-way stops, and be sure to call the women "ma'am." You can call men anything you want but don't call them late for dinner (which is lunch) or supper (which is dinner). And be sure to serve them fried green tomatoes, grits, streak-o-lean, collards, and cornbread or biscuits or both.

Wonderful food options aside, Athens is a special town where the people are friendly and there are many fun things to do. Explore the "on-your-own" suggestions on pages 32-33 of this program, especially the beautiful and historic north campus of the University of Georgia, home to multiple libraries and co-host of this year’s event along with GALILEO, Georgia’s Virtual Library initiative of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. We hope you will confirm for yourself the truth of these recent accolades:

- "7 Up and Coming Food Cities Around the U.S.,” Zagat, March 6, 2013
- “Top 10 College Towns,” Livability.com
- “The Next Big Scene” 10 Cities Where the Food’s Hot and the Music Rocks, Gourmet, June 2012
- Ranked #8 of “Top 10 Affordable Vacations” Livability.com, April 2012
- Ranked #1 of “Top 10 Cities With the Best Music Scenes Outside of Nashville, NYC, and LA” Livability.com, March 2012

We have organized three social events for your relaxation and networking with colleagues. The first of these is the joint Tech Seminar closing / ELUNA opening reception, generously sponsored by Ex Libris at the UGA Special Collections Library on Tuesday, April 30; meet your colleagues on the lawn under the stars of the southern sky for a buffet and beverages, including special local brews by the Terrapin Beer Company, an ELUNA 2013 sponsor. Be sure to wander inside and explore the exhibits highlighting many unique and interesting aspects of Georgia's culture and history, including the Athens music scene, as well as the Peabody Collection of artifacts and materials related to the history of broadcasting on radio and television. On Wednesday night, a fun night of food, beverage, and music takes place at the Melting Point, featuring Abbey Road Live, a band of long-time Athens music scene veterans who channel the Beatles on special occasions. And last but not least, Thursday night will feature a pub-crawl of downtown Athens, from the divine to the ridiculous, Thomas to Pulaski, Hancock to Broad, and all points in between. Collect your participation prize at the business meeting on Friday!

The ELUNA Program Planning Committee and the Local Arrangements Committee, led by the University of Georgia and GALILEO, have worked hard to create a terrific conference, packed full of meaningful sessions that tell the stories of libraries and their experiences, as well as product updates and the future of the Ex Libris product line. There are over 150 sessions covering a variety of topics related to Ex Libris products, and we thank the many presenters who have stepped forward to offer insights and experiences. Conference participants will be arriving from all over the United States, as well as from international sites. As usual, Ex Libris leadership will be on hand to participate in the presentations and to engage in individual discussions. We welcome you and look forward to a productive and beneficial conference!

Don’t be a chicken!
If you have questions, need help, or to borrow a laptop (we have some loaners), or are just lost or confused, come to the registration desk in the Fire Hall—we’re here to help!

Many thanks to all of the sponsors of ELUNA 2013. Without their support, especially that of Ex Libris, this event would not be possible. We would also like to express appreciation to our local hosts, the University of Georgia Libraries and GALILEO, Georgia’s Statewide Virtual Library. Athens is a welcoming town; we also appreciate the Classic Center, Convention and Visitor’s Bureau, hotels, caterers, Groome Transportation, musicians, service people, bars, Terrapin Brewery, and everyone who has helped to make this event a success. Thank y’all so much!
Evening Event

ELUNA 2013

Tuesday, 4/30/2013, 6:00-10:00 pm: Opening Reception at the University of Georgia Special Collections Library, 300 South Hull Street. An evening of local food, beverages, music, history, and culture, generously sponsored by Ex Libris. Free with registration for either Tech Seminar or ELUNA.

Wednesday, 5/1/2013, 6:00-10:00 pm: Networking Dinner at Melting Point at the Foundry, 295 E Dougherty St. Get your ticket at the Registration Desk and join your colleagues for another fun evening of food, beverage, conversation, and entertainment at the historic Foundry, including a special presentation from the ALMA Product Working Group.

Thursday, 5/2/2013, 8:00 pm to 10:30 (and beyond?): Guided pub crawl of downtown Athens featuring discounts and prizes. Meet at Firehouse Hall at 7:45. We’ll depart for our first stop (The Capitol Room, 247 E Washington St.) at 8:00 pm. Free to join; your own tab for food and beverages.
Overwhelmed with the new RDA cataloging rules? Backstage can help.

Whether you’re experimenting with RDA workflows, adapting RDA data from copy cataloging to fit your institution’s transitional preferences, or retrofitting RDA records to AACR2 rules, Backstage can customize a plan that fits your library’s needs.

- Take a tour of UGA's Special Collections Library, Tuesdays @ 2:00
- Visit the Georgia Museum of Art or State Botanical Garden of Georgia
- Explore Georgia's Antebellum Trail and Madison, Georgia
- Stay after for the Human Rights Festival on the weekend of May 4-5, an annual two-day event that takes over the main intersection of downtown Athens with speakers, bands, exhibits, food, and more. Free.
- Add on a day or two in Atlanta and explore the many things the city has to offer.

Did You Know...?

When UGA was incorporated by an act of the Georgia General Assembly on January 27, 1785, Georgia became the first state to charter a state-supported university. At that time, nearby Watkinsville, as the then-county seat, was the natural location. However, legend holds that to avoid the corrupting influence of Watkinsville's Eagle Tavern, Athens was selected to be the home of the new college.

Look Both Ways For the Athena Chicken

How to Be Southern

1. Eat grits for breakfast. Cheese grits are better. Salt is fine but only Yankees put sugar on them.
2. Answer in the affirmative even when the answer is negative. Example: “We sure don’t have any more of those.”
3. After sharing a story about a friend’s deplorable habits or lack of common sense or poor decisions or general lack of character, say “Bless his/her heart.”
4. To verify the worthiness of a new acquaintance, ask him/her where his/her mother is from, as well as her maiden name. If you recognize either, establish exactly what kind of cousins you might be.

Did You Know...?

Athens, Georgia is the home of the world’s only double-barrelled cannon, a landmark of failure. Invented for use in the American Civil War and designed to propel two cannon balls connected by a chain, the device did not pass “beta testing.” Due to the inability to fire the cannons in exact synchronization, the chain broke and sent the balls flying erratically in different directions.
Restaurants Short List

- The Grit: World famous vegetarian fare on the western edge of downtown.
- The National: Best atmosphere, with a seasonal and sophisticated menu
- Farm 255: farm to table with local music and a popular bar
- Ted’s Most Best: brick oven pizza, a favorite with all ages and young families mingling at the outdoor café and bocce court
- Trappeze: Beer, beer, beer, so many beers, and good pub food
- The Last Resort Grill: An Athens southern bistro tradition, featuring shrimp and grits
- DePalma’s: Popular mid-scale Italian bistro.
- Transmetropolitan: Inexpensive pizza, salads, sandwiches and a full-bar upstairs
- Mama’s Boy: On the far eastern edge of downtown, popular for breakfast or lunch
- Weaver D’s: Automatic for the people, soul food for the soul. Just down the hill from the Classic Center. Go for lunch and get your greens on. Check to see if they’re open.
